

Drama convo features three one-act plays by Play Production class, Alpha Psi Omega

For the first time in several years, the convocation yesterday morning featured the work of the Play Production Class, directed by Mrs. Frances McChesney Key. Members of Alpha Psi Omega, honorary dramatic fraternity, and University Players also helped out in the presentation of three short plays.

Acted out in front of the curtain, "Spring Scene" opened the program in a lighter vein. It was the story of two sweethearts re-uniting after a separation of many years.

"Spring scenes"

Included in the cast of "Spring Scene" were Jacqueline

Zerbe, Leroy Damhoff, Glennys Chittenden and Jack Dunlevy. Props, costumes and makeup were handled by Bill Borowiak and Jeanine Fratt. Berkley Forsythe was student director.

"Overtones"

A skit with laughs, "Overtones" attempted to show the audience the workings of the female mind. One set of characters expressed what was said out loud; another set expressed what the women actually thought.

Barbara Haugness, Gwen Arner, Mary Rispler and Leonore Marx, acted in this presentation while Donna Miller, Joan Farris and Leonore Marx working behind the scenes.

"The Valiant"

A serious one act play, "The Valiant" concluded the dramatic convocation for 1951. In it, a condemned criminal refuses to reveal his true identity because he wishes to protect his family.

Cast in "The Valiant" were Don Sarooian, Arthur Gaeth, Leroy Damhoff, Mary Rispler and Glickfield. Val Hanson was student director; Clarence Smelser handled makeup and Bill Glickfield handled the props for the one act play.

Election roster totals 38 for Wednesday poll

Ballot will include Student Council, Ma-ie Day Princess, student publications posts

Thirty-eight OU students will be up for election Wednesday in the annual spring elections. Ma-ie Day Princess and Student Council positions for next year's sophomore, junior and senior class and Board of Student Publications will be filled.

The election will be held from 9 a. m. to 2 p. m. in the West Lounge, said Nancy Jones, election chairman. "We're expecting a large turnout."

All students will vote for the Ma-ie Day Princess. Candidates for the title are Norma Elfine, Chi Omega; Ruth Lane, Sigma Kappa; JoAnn Olsen, Alpha Xi Delta; Gloria Schiro, Zeta Tau Alpha; and Beverly Swahn, Independent.

Only freshman, sophomores and juniors will vote for the candidates for Board of Student Publications. Those running include Harley Beber, Dean Brown, Jim Daley, Charlotte Weinberg, Leonard Lefitz, Bonnie Wilson, and Dick Winchell. Voters will cast their ballots for two of the above.

Two boys and two girls will be elected from each class to the Council posts. Running for next years sophomore representatives on the Council are Teresa Littlejohn, Diane Purdy, Jean Salladay, Doris Burnett, and Joan Ebert. Men are Norman Goldenberg, Bob Keim, Bob Moscrey, Roger Orr, and Jerry Ziehe. Only freshmen may vote for these representatives.

Sophomores will elect from eight candidates their junior representatives. Candidates are Jeannine Fratt, Charlotte Longville and Marilyn Silbert. Men include Bob Citta, William Duffack, Jack Katz, Howard Olson, Jim Townsend.

Those running for the senior council posts are Joan Bugbee, Nancy Jones, Jean Levenson, Jacqueline Zerbe. Men vying for the positions are Bud Bridenbaugh, Lynn Hooten, George Marling and Ben Tobias. This years junior class will elect their senior representatives.

The council set the date for next year's Homecoming celebration as Oct. 20 at their meeting Wednesday. Dads' Day was set for Nov. 3.

The selection of the Tom-Tom Revue Directors was left until next fall. Because of the current unsteady situation there would be a possibility of the selected directors not returning to school.

TV program features work of ceramics class

Another phase of University activity was introduced to television audiences yesterday. This time the ceramics class of the Art Department held the spotlight before the video cameras on "This is Your University" at 5:15-5:30 p. m. over WOW-TV.

In a program written by radio student Ronna Rimmerman and directed by Jim Triplett, Paul Gruber, told the audience how he took up ceramics as a hobby after his physician advised him to relax from the fast-pace of detective work. Now a ceramics expert, Gruber acted as moderator and introduced four other workers in the medium.

Woods urges all eligible students to file for test

All students eligible for the draft are urged to file applications at once to take the Selective Service System College Qualification Test, according to John E. Woods, Placement Office director.

Confused reports coming from Selective Service Headquarters in Washington indicate a strong possibility that students who do not take the test may not be deferred regardless of class standing.

Students are asked to get an application card from their respective draft boards. This must be done as soon as possible so that students may be assigned to one of the three testing dates currently specified according to Woods.

In preparation for taking the Selective Service System College Qualification Test, Dr. Claude Thompson will give a similar test to all interested persons. This practice test will be given, free of charge, in room 438 at 8 a. m., on May 15. Draft eligible students taking this test will be excused from classes from 8-10 a. m. on that date.

Art Jury accepts OU instructor's etching

An OU art instructor has had an etching accepted by the jury of the Annual Pennell Print Exhibitions during June and July at the Library of Congress, Washington, D. C. She is Miss Dorothy Mayhill, who teaches drawing and etching here.

Science Academy section selects Frye as chairman

Laurence A. Frye, OU chemistry instructor, was elected chairman of the combined chemistry, engineering, and physics section of the Nebraska Academy of Science.

Hoff, Woods journey to Kansas to confer with ROTC officers

Charles Hoff, OU finance secretary and Placement Office Director John E. Woods left last Monday afternoon for Washburn University, Topeka, Kans., and Kansas State College, Manhattan to confer with officials there concerning OU's new Air ROTC unit.

The Air Force survey team which came to OU last February was composed of two officers from these institutions. They inspected OU thoroughly and approved the application for the new unit.

The Placement Office has been swamped with requests for information on the new unit. The Air Force has not sent the necessary details to OU, so the student's questions are unanswerable at this time.

The official letter from Washington confirming OU's application came last Monday. The Air ROTC unit will begin in early July.

OU joins Placement Officers Association

OU's Placement Office is now a member of the Rocky Mountain College Placement Officers Association, according to John E. Woods, Placement Office director.

Omaha University is the first Nebraska school to become a member of this group, formerly made up of schools in Utah, Colorado, Arizona, and New Mexico.

Mr. Woods received the invitation to join the group from Harold Carlston, Placement Director of Utah University, Salt Lake City, and President of the Association. OU is also a member of the National Placement Officers Association.

Music fraternities will present concert at convocation Thursday

A music convocation including three duo piano numbers, a woodwind quartet, a brass choir and the Madrigal singers will be presented next Thursday at 9:30. The assembly, given for the second year in a row, is sponsored by Kappa Mu Lambda, honorary music fraternity, and Kappa Lambda Mu, honorary music sorority.

Included in the program will be bits from Menotti's opera, "The Telephone" a recent Broadway hit. The selection will be sung by Clarence Smelser and Luanne Bisbee.

Nancy Lindborg and Nancy Hileman will provide duo-piano accompaniment for the three Leibesteider waltzes to be sung by the madrigal group. Another piano duet will be by Nancy Lindborg and Jacquie Geilus playing selections from Milhaud's "Scaramouche"; Irv Jones and Nancy Hileman will play "The Mother Goose Suite" by Ravel.

Members of the brass choir will perform at the Thursday convocation.

Donald Badger is chosen by Board of Publications as Tomahawk chief

The editor of the 1951-52 Tomahawk will be Donald J. Badger. He was chosen Monday by the student-faculty Board of Publications.

"I am sure that it was the feeling of the board that there were four superior candidates for the job," stated Robert S. McGranahan, chairman of the publications board. "As far as I am concerned," he continued, "it is a shame that there was not a top job for all four of them." The other three applicants for the editorship were Bob Skudlarek, Dick Winchell and Charlotte Weinberg.

The future Tomahawk editor, who will succeed Jean MacDonald, has edited two service papers, Guidon Chatter and the 6th Division Artillery News, while he served two years in Korea. The 22 year-old junior has been publicity director of the Nebraska Multiple Sclerosis League for the past two years, serving as editor-in-chief of the MS Informer, monthly publication of the league.

Badger holds an Associate Title in journalism and is working for a Bachelor of Arts degree in English; he will graduate in June, 1952.

Degree applications due Tuesday, May 1

Seniors who have not yet applied for degrees must do so immediately. The absolute deadline is Tuesday, May 1, says Miss Alice C. Smith, Registrar.

Many night school students were not aware of the former deadline of April 1 for degree application.

OU debaters defeat Creighton in practice

The debaters, Sherman Poska, Art Lefitz, Jim Klein, Duane Post, Burt McMillan, and Bob Dahlhoff, won their debates.

IT'S THE GOSPEL ACCORDING TO Jo Larkin...

The honor of Ma-ie Day Princess will finish up this year's queen titles that are bestowed on the fairer sex here at the U. Girls have ten chances to become a queen; boys have only four. Which just goes to show . . .

This is a real problem. If we get many more queens on campus we'll be like the state university. Some of the chances the OU girls have are Homecoming Queen, Beauty Queen, Ma-ie Day Princess, Rose of Delta Sig, Sig Ep Queen of Hearts, Typical Sorority Girl, Dream Girl, Sig Lamb Goddess, Typical Freshman Girl, and Junior Prom Queen.

The men wrestle over Bachelor, Joe College, King Satan, and Typical Freshman Boy.

Election Day is next Wednesday, May 2. Everyone be sure and vote! Student Council and Board of Student Publications positions will be filled.

"Joe College" dance is tonight. It's been a long time since a dance has been held at night in the auditorium. Things are going up . . . The last few night dances have been the Faculty Square Dances.

OU will be worth coming back to next year. There's many a woman who will be changing her mind over the summer. Only instead of the dungarees we'll be seeing a lot of uniforms. No one knows what color they'll be. The men are waiting to see if the color suits their hair and coloring, before they commit themselves.

The library was roused this week by a thunderous pounding from third floor. The librarian marched up stairs. It was just the Gateway Staff practicing the ROTC. Lee Nelson was commanding.

The convo yesterday was something new n' different to OU students. Comments were very favorable to more of the same.

Noticed in the Quick magazine "For sale, one slightly used tombstone, ideal for family named Swiggins."

Something new . . . using live beetles for ornamental pins . . . when you're done wearing them you put them in a bottle until the next time.

Roger Orr got the biggest thrill of his young life down in Kansas City last weekend. He walked into a bar, sat down on a stool and mumbled "Draw one!" The bartender did!

There's a trend around school very favorable to the Gateway. Overheard the other day . . . A student center employee came out of the shack," stopped suddenly and started looking and fumbling in her shopping bag full of stuff. She wheeled around and ran back into the shack crying "I forgot my Gateway."

Survey checks civil liberties at colleges

(By Associated Collegiate Press) The status of civil liberties on the nation's campuses is not all that it should be, according to a survey released last month by the American Civil Liberties Union. Seventeen of 33 college newspapers reported instances of civil rights curtailment.

Among the rights which were reported violated were: controversial speakers on campus; alumni attempts to check teaching material; faculty oaths; investigations; pressure on certain campus political groups.

Eight universities reported difficulty in securing controversial speakers. Six had loyalty oaths.

Last year, 299,500 pedestrians were injured in the United States.

Gateway on the 'coalition'.

Every election candidate has a right to join with other candidates in forming a slate, ticket, party, or whatever-he-wants-to-call-it. This right is fundamental.

The Gateway, however, is disappointed to see the "Greek coalition" return to the campus for the coming student election. It is disappointed because it feels the Greek coalition violates the following three principles of a democratic election.

1. Candidates are elected as representatives of all students, not of specific organizations. The creation of a Greek ticket and an Independent ticket weakens this ideal.

2. Any candidate whose friends want him to run has a right to be considered by all of the student body. The Greek coalition, by seeking to permit only 14 Greeks to campaign for 14 offices, destroys this right. It is interesting to note that the Independent Students Association, while presenting its own slate, also encouraged all its members to seek office either as individuals or on other tickets.

3. A better selection is possible if all potential candidates are permitted to run. We intend no reflection on the coalition candidates, but it is certainly true the coalition eliminates several outstanding Greeks, including five present office-holders, from student consideration. T.N.T.

Omaha high school girls will visit OU

OUWI will entertain girls from the five Omaha public high schools Saturday April 28, from 9:00 to 3:00 p. m. on the OU campus.

Jo Thorson, OUWI's new publicity chairman, said the upper-class girls from North, South, Benson, Tech and Central are in for a gala day of well-planned athletics. The play-day consists of a well rounded schedule of tennis, badmitten, volleyball, and ping-pong.

The girls will invade the Student Center at noon for lunch, after which a skit will be presented by members of OUWI.

All of the girls who attend the play-day will participate in some way. If they do not play in actual competition they will officiate or assist in distributing equipment.

The purpose of the play-day is to acquaint the potential college girls with OU's athletic department. Doris Harris is the play-day chairman.

All girls who anticipate participation in golf must sign up by Monday April 30. Golf matches will be played at Elmwood Park.

There will be an archery tournament May 30.

If weather permits, OU baseball team will meet Simpson Saturday

When April showers come OU's way,

We might play baseball some other day!

This could very well be the theme song of Coach Virgil Yelkin's baseballers, as the weatherman seems to be set against the Indians ever playing a baseball game.

Omaha U's golfers will try to get back on the winning trail today when they take on the University of Wichita club at Happy Hollow.

Tuesday Drake bludgeoned the visiting Omahans 14½-3½ in the Iowa city. Gordon Severa was the only Indian to escape with a victory. He nudged Siefkin 77-78 in a tight duel to take a 2½-½ win. But Bob Lindberg, Garth Lof, and Bob Russell failed to win their matches as Zenshoof beat Lindberg 3-0.

OU netsters romp over Peru Bobcats

Peru Teachers was the latest tennis team to fall before Omaha's net squad. The Indians swamped the outstaters 6-0 in Tuesday's match at Dewey Park.

In singles the Red and Black weren't extended too much as Fred Pisasale started off the afternoon by dumping Bob Faunce 6-1, 6-0. Fred's teammates soon followed suit as Tom Burke took care of Fred Thomas 6-1, 6-0, Don Blocker jilted Bud Kyle 6-2, 6-0, and Brendon Gallagher sunk Bill Cummins 6-0, 6-0.

Peru managed to take four sets from the Burk-Pisasale duo, but the Omahans defeated Faunce and Thomas, 6-4, 6-1. Ron Case and Dale Womer then combined to take a 6-3, 6-1 victory from Kyle and Cummins.

Rain hampers outfield men more than others

By Lee Nelson

Of all the positions on the Omaha U nine that has been hampered most by the rain, surely the outfield contingent of John Potts, Bob Murray, Andy Marinkovitch, Jerry Guinane, Newell Breyfogle, and Roger Orr take the cake.

So far, the outfielders have done nothing but throw for accuracy in the cramped quarters of the Fieldhouse. However a few of the boys have undertaken the task of hitting infield practice.

Potts heads the list of the outer defensemen. John lettered three years in the diamond sport at Central before doing a hitch in the Navy. He played semi-pro ball for Hamilton, Ontario and Schuyler in the Pioneer Nite league.

This is John's second year on the varsity while this fall he lettered in football.

Monday was scheduled to be the last night of the women's bowling league competition. But one of the teams which is tied for the lead tied one of its games.

And therefore, Chi Omega's kegglers must play in a one frame play-off before the title can be decided. The Chi O's split two games with Gamma Mu last Monday, and the other ended in a tie.

According to league rules, tie games will be decided by a one frame run-off. At present, Alpha Xi B leads the league with a 51-30 record. Chi O is second with 50 wins and 30 losses and that tie.

If Chi O wins the run-off with Gamma Mu, there will be a tie for the title. The two leaders will then play it off in a best-of-three series. If Gamma Mu wins, Alpha Xi B wins the laurels.

The Alpha Xi B's won two of three from Sigma to gain the lead. In other games, NISA lost two of three to Alpha Xi Delta, ISA swept past Zeta Tau Alpha and Chi O Owls' past Sigma Kappa by identical 3-0 scores.

Lorene Shannon of Gamma Mu rolled the high game of the week. She also scored the high individual series with a 427 score, including her 185 game.

Three candidates compete for title; gift and bouquet to be presented by Williams

The Gamma Eta chapter of Delta Sigma Pi will present their third annual "Rose" of Delta Sig" dance next Saturday night. Three candidates competed for the title. They were Joan Clawson, Shirley Hawkins and Barbara Ehlers.

The chapter elected their "Rose" at a previous business meeting so they could meet the deadline for sending a picture of the winner in to the nation office for competition in the national "Rose of Delta Sig" contest.

The "Rose" of the OU chapter will be presented with a gift and the traditional bouquet of roses by last years winner, June Williams. Bill Cronstrom will announce the title holder for this year.

Gary Penisten will play for the fraternity and their dates. The dance will be held in the Black Mirror Room of the Fontenelle Hotel. A dinner will precede the dance at 7 p. m. The dance will begin at 9 p. m. and last until midnight. For decoration the chapter will follow the "Rose" theme. At the dinner table there will be a rose setting.

Ray Barr and Jerry Leffler, social chairmen, are in charge of the over-all arrangements for the semi-formal event.

Pan-hell to change officers by rotation

The new representatives to the OU Pan-hellenic Council will take over their duties next Wednesday.

New officers will be elected at that time. Other business for the new council will be the amendment and completion of new rushing rules.

Office-holding on the council is determined by rotation. The order of rotation is based on the dates that the sororities went national. Chi Omega, the first national sorority on the campus, held the council presidency this past year. The new term will be filled by Alpha Xi Delta, the second national at OU. The vice presidency goes to Zeta Tau Alpha, the secretary's post to Sigma Kappa, and the treasury to Chi Omega. Gamma Sigma Omicron, OU's only local sorority, holds membership on the council but does not hold any offices.

The new council members are as follows: Alpha Xi Delta, Patsy Cahow and Syntha Judd; Chi Omega, Doris Hanson and Jackie Zerbe; Gamma Omicron, Barbara Fredericksen; Sigma Kappa, Pat Johansen and Nancy Spring, and Zeta Tau Alpha, Nancy Hileman and Marcia Jourdan.
